Did You Know?

A company whose website is translated into German, Spanish, Japanese, French, Italian, Portuguese and English can reach over 90% of the online population. You can't achieve that with mere document translation or interpreting.

WEBSITE TRANSLATION

We provide website translation and localization services so your company can enter the global marketplace with confidence.

Studies reveal that online viewers are 3 times more likely to carry out a transaction on a website that communicates its content in their own language. Addressing people in their native language helps to generate new business and compels viewers to return to your site.

Our professional translators and web-designers will translate and optimize your website into any chosen language and offer the best translation possible for your target market.

We have a dedicated full-time IT team in our office, ready to assist you with any technical issue or question that may arise. If you have special requirements, please let us know and we will make sure they are met.

For programmers, Translation Cloud can help you to easily translate your app into over 50 languages. If your app is only available in English, you're potentially reaching only about 26% of total internet users. By translating your app into the ten most popular languages used online, you can reach over 80% of all users on the internet.

With Translation Cloud, the process is simple. Once your files are uploaded, our system will separate the text from the code. Once the text is translated by our professional translators, it will be inserted back into the code in the original format. No additional formatting on your part is required!

VOICE-OVER & TRANSCRIPTION SERVICES

Translation Cloud provides professional studio-recorded voice-over, subtitling, and transcription services in almost all of the major languages.

Innovation. Development. Design.

Over the last few years, our IT team's expertise and knowledge has helped us create revolutionary translation programs such as Ackuna (www.ackuna.com), our free translation social network for developers, and the Translation Cloud API crowd-source platform (www.translationcloud.net) for hybrid translations.

Both of these programs utilize proprietary crowd-sourcing and cloud-voting technologies to meet the growing technological trend in the industry for alternative and more cost-effective solutions.
